

Abstract

Watch with digital display capable of being adjusted by a control device sensitive to rotation and to axial pressure. The watch comprises two lines of alphanumeric characters, of which one is used exclusively for 5 displaying the current time and the other is used exclusively for displaying indications relative to auxiliary functions.

(Figure 2a)